Full job description

Randstad is the global market leading recruitment company in the world and spans over 40 countries. But it's not about the big numbers for us - we are all about people - putting our candidates and clients and staff first in everything we do. Our actions influence the lives of individuals every day so we care about making the right connections between our valued candidates and clients.

About your role

Are you fired up by creative problem solving for clients, or is the thrill of closing a deal what motivates you? As a trainee recruitment consultant at one of our branches in Brisbane CBD, Hendra, Logan you will have the opportunity to use your existing skills and be supported to develop a rewarding career with outstanding earning potential.

You will connect people with meaningful employment in a wide range of industries all across Australia on a daily basis and be rewarded for making a real difference to peoples' lives.

What do I need to succeed?

Do you have a background in sales, real estate, travel, retail or hospitality? Did you know that your existing skills are extremely transferable! Our L&D team will provide you with ongoing support so that you are able to become a top performing recruiter! As long as you are motivated and want to succeed we can teach you everything you need to know about recruitment.

- A keen interest or experience working in sales/recruitment
- A resilient mindset and highly motivated
- Experienced in excelling targets
- Enjoy working collaboratively with a team

What's in it for me?

- Base salary + super + uncapped commission

- Flexible working options
- Day off on your birthday
- Extra day of leave for each year of service
- Paid volunteering leave
- Brand new laptop & mobile
- Access to free health & wellbeing programs - yoga, meditation, discounted fitness clubs and many more
